What Are R&D Tax Credits?

The government introduced R&D tax credits as an incentive for UK businesses to invest in innovation. They are a valuable source of cash for companies and an essential tax planning tool. The funds received empower companies expand their operations and drive further R&D.

R&D tax relief can be claimed by a range of companies that innovate; this could include developing new products, processes and services or enhancing existing ones. Relief can even be claimed on unsuccessful projects.
